"SIGHTS OF A CENTURY" PAGEANT HIGHLIGHTS 100 YEAR CELEBRATION

White Jackets A Last Chapel Honor Award

"One girl in a hundred" was the cheer for the girl who won a white jacket hack in 1920 when the tradition of awarding the jackets to the all-round Lasell girl was started. At this time Lasell Junior College had an enrollment of 300, and three sweaters were given to the three girls most outstanding.

Today, the awarding is still carried on, and the presentation takes place amid breathless anticipation at the Last Chapel Service, which this year is on the morning of June 11, at 8:30 in Winslow Hall.

The jackets are awarded to the girls, Freshmen or Seniors, who possess in high degree the qualities of integrity, loyalty, consideration of others, good sportsmanship, scholarship and leadership.

In 1920 the girls were chosen on the basis of character shown throughout the year, giving each and any girl the chance to earn a jacket, then called sweaters. The requirements, according to records of that year, were that a student have, "Good standing in studies, good standing in athletics, be a good winner and better loser, have a good influence, be thoughtful, democratic, and a good 'mixer', have good health and personal appearance, neat appearance of room, have no habit of breaking rules, and be guilty of no dishonorable acts."

Every girl was and is carefully considered by a committee, of which two-thirds

Souvenir Programs
Tell of Pageant's
Story, Cast, Director

With the appearance of Mrs. Jeanne Cousins, Director of the Centennial Pageant, and students Anita Morse, Priscilla Freeman, Nancy Smith, and Frances Hyde on the Dick Tucker television show, Thursday, May 31, residents of the Boston area received a preview of the Musical Pageant that will take place tomorrow evening, June 9, as part of the Centennial Day celebration.

The Musical Pageant will be held on a stage built on the Athletic Field under the direction of Mr. Earl Ordway, and will consist of three acts which will tell the history of Lasell.

A big feature of the evening will be the souvenir programs that will contain a picture history of Lasell. They may be purchased for 35 cents and the proceeds will go to the Building Fund.

Beside a host of notables including senators and representatives from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and Newton and Auburndale officials, will be Louise Morgan, television star, home-maker Marjorie Mills, and Mrs. Josiah Lasell, granddaughter of Josiah Lasell.

Costumes for Acts One and Three were made by the students under the supervision of Miss Elaine MacDonald and Mrs. Nancy Butler. The costumes to be worn in Act Two are from the Brooks Costumers in New York City. Many of these costumes have been worn in Broadway plays such as "Annie Get Your Gun", and others.

Centennial Day will start with a parade of the Alumnae from Bragdon to Winslow for a supper and meeting. This will take place at 5 p.m. Before the crowning of the Queen, the Alumnae will parade across the Athletic Field. Banners of every class will be represented and the oldest alumna present will ride in a horse drawn buggy.

Sights of a Century, the musical show, will be presented at 9:00 p.m. on the brightly lighted Athletic Field. Act One includes the Indian Scene, the Pilgrim Scene, and the Civil War Scene. Beverly Pink and Sarah Graham will sing "Indian Love Call" during the first scene. The Choral Group will sing the "Thanksgiving Hymn" in the Pilgrim Scene, and Orphean Club will sing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" in the Civil War Scene. Act Two includes On The Road To Auburn-dale, You Never Can Tell, Pooh Pooh, (Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

1889 GRADUATE SAW HIGHLIGHT

Recalls Clara Barton's
Visit To Lasell Campus

With the excitement of Lasell's Centennial Celebration in view, many alumnae are anxiously awaiting the festivities. One of these people is the past secretary of Lasell's class of 1889, Mrs. Arthur T. Cass, the former Mary Packard of Newton, Mass. Mrs. Cass is a sweet demure person who takes an active interest in the events taking place at her alma mater, of which she is very proud to be an alumna.

Mrs. Cass thinks the girls of the class of 1889 had just as many good times as the Lasellites of the class of 1951 do. Many of her pleasant memories center around Carter Hall, Bragdon, where the girls of her class then had military drill. She also liked the excursions to Washington, canoeing and horseback riding. She said that they were always having interesting speakers come and talk to them. One of these visiting dignitaries was the founder of the Red Cross, Clara Barton.

In her class there were twelve graduates, who came from nine different states. One of the girls in the class of '89 was attending Lasell while her family traveled west in a covered wagon to find a suitable place to settle. The place they settled in was Colorado, on the same land where the capitol building in Denver now stands.

When Mrs. Cass graduated from Lasell she attended Emerson College. She then taught in Boston, and was also a public reader.

ONE OF OLDEST LASELL ALUMNAE TO LEAD PARADE

Riding in a horse-drawn buggy, one of the oldest of Lasell's alumnae, probably someone who attended the school in the late eighties, will lead the Alumnae Parade to the Athletic Field.

Starting at 5:00 o'clock at Bragdon Hall, the Alumnae will parade to Winslow Hall for the Alumnae supper meeting. After the supper, they will parade from Winslow Hall to the Athletic Field to watch the Centennial Pageant.

It is not known as yet how many classes will take part in the parade, but those taking part will display a class placard and wear or carry some distinguishing article to represent their class.

"This year is the first time Lasell has planned an Alumnae Parade, but if the parade works out well, perhaps it will become an annual event," Priscilla Winslow of the Lasell Alumnae office explained.

SENIORS CARRY LAUREL WREATH FOR CLASS NIGHT

Will March to Athletic Field From Gardner Lab
For Activities Tonight

Seniors, carrying the traditional laurel wreath, will march in their caps and gowns from Gardner Lab onto the Athletic Field, for Class Night activities to be held this evening.

The ceremony will begin at 8:00 when Seniors will march to the Athletic Field carrying the laurel wreath. The wreath will be taken up by the Freshmen as the Seniors approach the stage, and carried to the rear of the audience.

Once on the stage, the Seniors will sing their "Welcome Song", followed by the formal greeting of parents and guests by Georgia Bakes, President of the Executive Council. Donna Lincoln will then present the Centennial Gift Fund and this will be followed by the reading of the Class Will by Dorothy McPherson. The Class will then sing its "Farewell to Freshmen", and Barbara Adams, President of the Senior Class, will end the program with her "Farewell To The College".

Farewell at Crow's Nest

In their last conformance to one of the many traditions at Lasell, the Seniors will file two by two up the hill at Bragdon Hall for their Farewell at the Crow's Nest.

The procession will form a semi-circle in front of the Crow's Nest for the Farewell after the graduation exercises on June 11. A short message will then be given by Georgia Bakes, President of the College Government Association.

The Senior Class banner which will be hanging in front of the Crow's Nest will be taken down by Barbara Adams, President of the Senior Class, and the Freshman Class banner hung in its place by the President of the Freshman Class, Deborah Wong. Following the hanging of the new banner, the Seniors will sing their Cap and Gown Song and everyone will join in singing the Alma Mater.

As part of the tradition, the 1951 banner is to be presented to the first baby girl born to a graduate of this class. The banner will be kept at Lasell until the Alumnae Office receives an announcement of the birth of the first baby girl. The banner will be sent to her at that time.

A Commencement luncheon in the dining hall at Woodland will follow the Farewell at the Crow's Nest.

Baccalaureate Held Sunday

On Sunday, June 10, at 3:45 P.M. the Administration and Faculty of Lasell Junior College will assemble at Bragdon Hall in preparation for the Academic Procession to Winslow Hall for the Baccalaureate Sermon. President Raymond Wass will lead the Procession with the members of the Administration next and then the Faculty of Lasell placed according to their respective years of service at the college.

As the colorful and impressive procession of caps and gowns and academic hoods progresses toward Winslow Hall, the Seniors will fall in behind the Faculty where Seminary Avenue meets Woodland Road. This group will be led by Barbara Adams, Senior Class President, and the Class Officers, identified by their white tassels.

When all guests have been seated in Winslow Hall, the Lasell Junior College Baccalaureate Service will begin with an organ prelude by Dubois. The congregation will then stand while the Procession is being played. After the Invocation and The Lord's Prayer there will be a Scripture Reading by the Reverend Chauncy E. Blossom of the Auburndale Congregational Church.

The Baccalaureate Sermon will be given by the Reverend Clyde Yarbrough, Ph.D., D.D., of the Second Church of Newton. After the Benediction by Mr. Blossom the service will close with an organ recessional.

THE HERITAGE OF LASELL

The heritage which Lasell has left us will pass on through the years as unprecedented. We of the Editorial Staff of the Lasell News would like to take this opportunity, while we are still students, to tell you just how proud we are of our college, Lasell Junior College, on this hundredth birthday celebration.

Lasell has always been a leader in the field of junior colleges, even before junior colleges actually started. Thirty years ago, Lasell was moving on to advanced work. Today students are offered the widest range of subjects, not a narrow course as is the case at some colleges. The New England Junior College Council was partially organized by one of our own members: Dr. Guy Winslow.

We have been offered the best of modern educational facilities, along with a vast recreational program. Upon being graduated from Lasell, all students in good standing are assured of being accepted at any college.

It is our good fortune to be members of the class of 1951; the Centennial Class of Lasell. We have been presented with all the opportunities offered to other students, plus the chance to take part in this anniversary celebration. Our two wonderful years at Lasell Junior College will be climaxed by the knowledge that we are "Centennial Graduates".

As we pass through the years as students, and finally emerge as alumnae, we take with us all the traditions which Lasell has left to us. In closing our career as students at Lasell, and in ending our services to the Lasell News, we would like to wish Lasell a very happy birthday.

WE THE GRADUATING CLASS

The day is upon us, when we the graduating class will leave Lasell looking forward to varied futures. With us, we shall take many memories of two inspiring years.

What have we gained from our college years and what new qualities have we orientated into our lives?

We have learned to live with other people and share their interests, their experiences and problems. Our roommates have influenced our thinking by casting their ideas with ours and broadening our views on social and academic spheres. We have learned tolerance and understanding by sharing a room and caring for it together.

Coming from different sections of the country, we have learned how other people live and how we must change our ideas and habits in order to create a friendly atmosphere.

Finally Lasell has inspired us to think about the future, for we the Senior Class are no longer able to live in the present. We have the responsibility of the future upon us and must accept it readily as we march forward with our lamp of knowledge held high.

COMMENCEMENT FOR ABAGAIL

The door bell in the dorm rang, and Abigail excitedly clumped down the stairs. The date was Monday, June 11th, and Abby's family was arriving to see her graduate. Although it had taken Abigail four and a half years to get through, her loving family was as proud as were the parents of normal young ladies.

Abigail's body was adorned in her glamorous new dress of perriwinkle blue and burnt orange zebra striped jersey, with one wide shoulder strap and the other side held up by a hardly-noticeable piece of scotch tape. Her high-heeled, toeless, heel-less and sideless, red suede shoes were a challenge to this "typical Lasell girl" as she teetered back and forth, standing on the railing on the front porch, and waved to her approaching relatives.

The 1936 Ford coupe that puffed into the driveway contained, in slightly cramped condition, Abigail's mother, father, and dog. It being a hot day, Mr. and Mrs. Finkbinder had both worn shorts of identical red plaid, and wore African sun-helmets to shield their eyes.

Abigail jumped down the eight steps of her dormitory to the sidewalk below, just missing a Babson man reclining on the bottom step. One of her heels broke off, but she didn't notice the loss in her excitement. She hugged her mother, bent her six foot frame to kiss her five foot tall father, and tenderly embraced Earnst, her poodle.

But ahhh—she looked in the back shelf and there was a real, live man. Abby studied him quizzically for a moment, hesitating when she noticed his jade rimmed glasses and lack of eyebrows. But then with sudden abandon she embraced him longingly, for she knew that this was the love for which she had waited.

Mrs. Finkbinder explained that the young man was a hitch hiker whom they had picked up on their way.

"He's a fine boy for you, Abigail. Grab him!", said Mrs. Finkbinder.

"Where were you going," said Abigail to him.

"Just on a trip," he answered. "Two, three trips never hurt nobody."

And so, after Abigail plied him with candy and many gifts he agreed to be her man. But ohhhh. Look what's happened. The graduation procession had started and Abigail was still at the dorm.

Quickly she gathered up her skirts and leaped down to Winslow the back way. Like a streak of lightning, she was in her cap and gown and in the front of the line.

It was an impressive sight, bringing tears to the eyes of all. Abigail, of all Finkbinders, was leaving Lasell. The stone in the toe of her right foot and the broken heel on her left shoe were handicaps to her walking, but she bobbed on, undaunted.

And there, in the back of the crowd, stood Abigail's mother and father, Earnst, and her own true love.

Now sure of her future with her newly acquired man, Abigail's face glowed with pleasure as she raised her good eye and fluttered it in silent farewell to her alma mater.

CAMPUS CAROUSEL

Here it is, the early part of June and the Seniors are ready, or should be, to depart into this big, wide, opportune-filled world. I've been asking around Campus and quite a few girls have jobs already lined up. Margie Dodd is planning to be a counselor at a summer camp in Maine; Pat Shelton is going to help her Dad with his Real Estate business; MJ White plans to continue school at Toby Colburn in New York City; Connie Coleman is planning to establish a name for herself with Filene's; Elaine Quavillon is going to start off as an assistant buyer at a store in her home town; Robin Witt has plans to work in a buying office; Betty Baumbach is going to work for the summer on the Long Island shore helping her Dad run their newly acquired restaurant; and Nancy Pollock is going to wait on tables at the Hotel Belmont. By the way, Margie Kleindienst, maybe Marlene Semeraro, and I plan to rent an apartment in New York starting this fall, so it's "open-house" for anyone passing through.

Louise Marston has John K. Tupper's Sigma Phi Epsilon pledge pin. He attends Middlebury College. Many happy future trips, "Weise."

Congratulations to the Freshmen for putting out an excellent edition of the Lasell News. Ina Friedman is just the person to fill Toby's shoes.

Betty Vollmer and Kathy Rothe deserve a few words of praise as captains of the winning crew. You and the members of your crew helped to uphold the traditional Senior winning.

I'm sure I can speak on behalf of the Senior Class in wishing all you Freshmen a very successful Senior year. You've got tremendous girls to lead you, but remember—a big following helps accomplish many more things.

Yearbook Presented To Advisor

The first "Centennial Year Book" was formally presented to the Senior Class Advisor, Mrs. Marian Berlin, at Stunt Night, Thursday evening, May 24. Making the presentation was Helen Hubert, editor of the '51 yearbook. The arrival of the book marked the climax of the evening.

The book carries a festive note with cartoons by Donna Lincoln, depicting the life of a Lasell girl. A pen and ink reproduction of an old lithograph of Lasell Seminary, by Marilyn Rekers, introduces the section of the History of Lasell, cleverly interpreted by Maria Fantacci.

"The white padded cover and the many photographs make the book look wonderful, just what I hoped it would be," said Libbie Fleet, one of the Seniors, who appeared to be very pleased with her class book.

STUNT NIGHT UNHAMPERED BY DOWNPOUR

Stunt Night is a tradition at Lasell. It is looked forward to all year and its passing marks the drawing to a close of the school year. When Stunt Night has come and gone, then we realize that graduation is not far away.

Theatre Curtain Going Up

Seventeen has recently opened at the Shubert Theatre. The musical comedy, based on Booth Tarkington's famous novel, stars Kenneth Nelson as Willie Baxter and Ann Crowley as Lola Pratt, the baby-talk girl. Walter Kent has written the music and the lyrics are by Kim Gannon. The engagement is for two weeks.

Love's Labor Lost, Shakespeare's witty comedy of manners, is continuing at the Brattle Theatre. This is the first professional production seen here in over fifty years. The cast includes members of the Brattle Theatre Company.

A touching new musical, adapted from Betty Jane Smith's A Tree Grows in Brooklyn, is on its way in the theatre circuit. It is unusual that a play is produced after Hollywood has had its hand in the business, but A Tree Grows in Brooklyn has survived the movie and now as a production, is rumored to be good. It stars Shirley Booth and the romantic leads are played by Johnny Johnston and Marcia Van Dyke. This is certainly Broadway's season for newcomers and A Tree Grows in Brooklyn is no exception.

Art Exhibit Shown Today

"I think the varied work shown will create inspiration for everyone who attends," said Miss Jacqueline Saunders, Art Instructor at Lasell, in speaking of the Art Exhibition to be shown today in connection with the commencement activities. To be held in the art studio on the fourth floor of Bragdon, the rust and lemon yellow folding screens will add a decorative touch to the light green walls.

Chairman of the Art Exhibition Committee, Barbara Sieder was assisted by Deborah Wong. Also included in the committee were Elaine Winters and Ann Steindecker.

Students from Fashion I and II, Drawing I and II, Painting II, Lettering II, Drawing Analysis are among the girls whose work will be displayed at the Art Exhibition.

Sara Pryor To Mr. Hewitt

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilfred Pryor of 584 Beacon Rd., Silver Spring, Md., announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Sara C. Pryor to Mr. William Roger Hewitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hewitt of Detroit, Michigan.

The ceremony will be performed on June 12 at 7:00 in the Marvin Memorial Methodist Church, Silver Spring, Md.

The bride will wear an off-white slipper satin gown with a net yoke embroidered in seed pearls, and a finger tipped veil falling from a cap also embroidered with seed pearls.

Miss Marlita Rae Scott, of Maryland University, will be the maid of honor, and her gown will be of pink net with a stole. She will wear matching hat and gloves.

Bridesmaids will be Miss Shirley Graham of Maryland, Miss Priscilla Burling of New York, and Miss Joan Baker of (Continued on Page 4, Col. 1)

AROUND-TOWN

Planning to take your parents out to dinner this week-end?? Or are they taking you? In any case, we thought we'd remind you of some of the better eating-places in the Boston area.

The Meadows, on route 9 in Framingham, needs no introduction to Lasellites. It is justly famed for its fine foods, charming music and good music.

If you're planning to go into Boston, the Terrace Room at the Hotel Statler is a good bet for a fine meal. Locke-Obers would appeal to your dads and brothers. The Balinese Room in the Somerset Hotel would thoroughly satisfy even the most discriminating of mothers.

Lavaggi's in North Reading is renowned for its delicious lobster dinners and excellent service.

The dining room in the Hotel Beaconsfield is another superb place to dine.

Whatever your choice, both you and your parents will have a terrific dinner at any one of the places mentioned.

DEBORAH WONG
RE-ELECTED TO

Deborah Wong, President of the Freshman class, has been re-elected as President of the Senior Class of 1952. Announcement of the Senior officers for next year was made by Barbara Rost, next year's president of Student Government at an assembly Monday, May 28.

Other officers are: Vice President, Betsy Brown; Secretary, Joanne Getz; Treasurer, Pauline Coady; Building Fund Chairman, Ruth Easterlind; Song Leader, Sarah Graham; and Assistant Song Leader, Diane Vail.

Military Wedding
For Dot Delasco
At West Point

The Chapel at West Point will be the setting for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Frances Delasco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Delasco of 787 West Street, Stoughton, Massachusetts, to Lieutenant Guerdon Sterling Sines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sines of Ogden, Utah. The military wedding will be performed by Father Moore on Wednesday afternoon, June 13, at three o'clock.

Escorted by her father, the bride will wear a white ballerina length dress of marquisette. Her hat will be made of seed pearls. Her bouquet will be made of white spray flowers, with an orchid center.

Miss Catherine Delasco will be maid of honor for her sister and will wear an aqua ballerina length dress.

The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Delasco, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Jean Jankowski, roommate of the bride, will wear the same style gown in salmon color.

Francis St. Mary, roommate of the groom will act as best man. There will also be six sword bearers.

Following the wedding ceremony, there will be a reception at Cullum Hall. The couple will then leave for a five week trip through the northern states and Miami Beach, Florida.

FASHION
FANTASIES

Summer is a good time to reveal your personality, your perspective, your horizons. Dress yourself as individually as you would decorate a room. If you have a wanderlust and a love for the exotic, this is your lucky year, for fashions stress the formal, foreign look. Clothes from bathing suits to evening gowns all have a flavor of far-away-places.

Egyptian inspired: a strapless white nylon elasticized swimsuit by Jantzen; black Bermuda shorts in Irish linen, or little-boy shorts in banker's grey flannel, both with gayly striped waistbands to be worn with a blousey shirt in satiny white pique with dropped shoulders that halloon out into punchworked sleeves; in Paisley-printed Bates cotton, turquoise and cream, a dress with a snug corset-cover bodice, sleeveless, with a low laced-neck, and the famous full, full Carolyn Schnurer skirt; different and comfortable, Tina Leser's corset-cover blouse in white lawn with a pair of crush-pleated knickers in flame red sailcloth.

Clothes derived from the far-east are warmly-colored, decorative and meant to be worn with accessories such as great, dangling or looped golden earrings, and high arm bracelets, anklets, sandals, delicately-strapped shoes, brocaded slippers or, no shoes at all. Something new is a terry cloth Sandwig or chignon stuck in back with big gilt hair pins—to be worn to cover wet hair after swimming. Siam enters the picture in Tina Leser's lava-lava playuit in a rich red and gold print. The trunks are short, snug and wrapped. The top is a short-sleeved shirt accented with gold buttons and belt. More prints—a sleeveless cotton batik coat with a Chinese collar; a pair of full, pleated cotton pants worn under a belted cotton tunic. For a regal look—a two-piece dress with a solid gold effect—by Toni Owen. The halter top has a high fold—over collar, the skirt has a drape on one hip. Two gold tassels on hip and shoulder set it off. With a Javanese note, tapered ankle-length pants in wide-wale purple corduroy worn with a sleeveless blue shantung shirt with a Chinese collar.

Styles are rich and fancy, adorned with flowers, beading and often appearing to be made of satin and lace. If your nature is such, express it. Carolyn Schnurer's one piece swimsuit in cotton satin has a honed strapless top that looks like an evening gown. A Catalina suit is elasticized with a wreath of colored, cotton flowers around the top. Anore Schnurer suit is in pale lilac pique embroidered over in dark purple and nipped at the waist with a patent leather belt. Indian cotton makes an immensely full pleated Navajo squad skirt worn with an embroidered loose linen blouse. Rhinestones button a straight duster in black terry cloth. It can be worn as a beach-coat, a casual coat or, belted, as a dress.

Perhaps you're the realistic, down-to-earth type and like something simpler, sturdier, and more practical. Then denim, the summer equivalent of grey flannel, is your answer. However, it is not confined to beaches and dude ranches, but has been made into traveling costumes and evening wear. In striped denim, a Roman-

FLIP YORK'S
SENIOR WHITES
WIN AT CREW

On River Day, May 28, at approximately 5:30, the winning crew, the Senior "Whites", pulled across the finish line with every ounce of strength gone. The crowd cheered with excitement. As the tension mounted, there was a deafening chorus from the spectators, "Yea, Kathy, Yea, Seniors". While the screams were still at a riotous pitch, the Lasellites raced down to the landing dock.

Anxiety was still in the hearts of everyone as the winners paddled back and forth posing for the photographers who snapped pictures from every angle. When, at last, the glory bearers stepped ashore, they were rushed with congratulations. Then the girls left to make their debuts on Bump Hadley's T.V. program. In line they gave their town or city and state, as their names were called: Janice Weyls, Nancy Rice, Clair Quinzani, Nancy Cusack, Kelly Mangan, Janet Stewart, Marty Edwards, Kathy Rothc, and Phyllis York.

Miss McClelland and Mr. Ordway who also appeared on Bump Hadley's show, explained why we do not have crew races with other junior colleges. "I do not know of any other school having war canoes," Mr. Ordway said.

Miss "Mac" was asked what sports are offered at Lasell, and she mentioned briefly: softball, golf, badminton, soccer, hockey, basketball, tennis, and crew. When asked what sport they liked best, the winning crewers answered—"CREW".

Flip York is a two time winner. Last year, while a Freshman, she, with the able assistance of Betty Volmer, finished in first place. This year she captained her crew in the preliminaries well enough to take another first. Congratulations, Flip, and hats off to you too, Kathy Rothc, for a terrific follow-up in the race that really counted.

The very first race of the afternoon, was won by the York crew, followed across the line by the second place Free-

Stanley Reception
At Wayside Inn

At a four o'clock ceremony in the Martha-Mary Chapel in South Sudbury, Massachusetts, on June 12, Miss Cynthia A. Stanley will become the bride of Mr. William E. Spicer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spicer of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. The Reverend Taylor Weil will perform the ceremony, and a reception will follow at the historical Wayside Inn in South Sudbury.

To be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Howard P. Stanley of Canton, Massachusetts, the bride will wear a gown of nylon marquisette with a square necked bodice of lace. Her veil of illusion will be full chapel length gathered at the top, and she will carry a cascade bouquet of white gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Anne Coleman of Old Greenwich, Connecticut, will be her cousin's maid of honor, and will wear a gown of pink organdy and carry a bouquet of snapdragons.

Mr. Ernest Warburton, the groom's roommate at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and from Westboro, Mass., will be the best man. The ushers will include Mr. Robert Brown, of North Plainfield, N. J., and Mr. Daniel Taylor of East Haven, Conn.

The bride will be a graduate of the class of 1951 at Lasell. Mr. Spicer attended William and Mary College and is a graduate of the class of 1951 at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His fraternity is Phi Beta Kappa.

After a wedding trip to Canada the couple will reside in Cambridge for the summer months. In the fall they will live in Missouri, while Mr. Spicer does graduate work at the University of Missouri.

HOUSE GUEST

By ELSIE HEYMAN

Pouch and Ouch decided that it was about time they became acquainted with some of the faculty. But that presented a problem, because they wanted to talk with all of the instructors. It was finally decided to talk to those that they happened to meet.

Their first victim was Dr. Inez Williams who lives in Haskell House. She is known to all the gals that journey up the road to Gardner Lab, for it is there that she teaches Zoology and Comparative Anatomy. Dr. Williams comes from Brockton, Massachusetts, and spends her summers on Cape Cod. Her spare time is devoted to watching television and making jewelry. Dr. Williams is fond of the color brown and rabbit food.

Miss Marion Pyne was the next person we talked to and she also comes from Brockton, Massachusetts. She is one of the busiest instructors on Campus. Miss Pyne teaches Home Management, Child Care, Nutrition, Dietetics, and Household Science. Besides all this she is Faculty Advisor for L.C.C.A. and Resident Head at Blaisdell House. Last summer Miss Pyne took courses at the University of Colorado and worked at Rocky Mountain National Park. She likes to spend her vacations in Vermont or Canada Skiing.

Pouch and Ouch very conveniently met another of the outstanding personalities, Miss Margaret Wethern, instructor and director of Drama on the Campus. She thinks that of all the plays she has directed at Lasell, Midsummer Night's Dream was perhaps the most interesting, because of the musical background, ballet sequences, and technical devices. Miss Wethern has spent some of her previous summers at the University of Columbia, in New York, studying for her Masters Degree, and at the University of Wisconsin. One summer she spent in Ogunquit, Maine, working in the little theater, and this summer she will be vacationing in New Hampshire. Concerning music, she thinks everyone should have an interest in both classical and popular music, while her favorite modern opera is "The Consul". Miss Wethern, a former Lasell student who lived in Bragdon and Clark, comes from Eau Claire, Wisconsin, and teaches Merchandising, Speech, and Dramatics. The Lady's Not For Burning first interested her in Christopher Fry, now her favorite playwright.

A witty remark, a booming voice, an outline on the board, a friendly smile, and a butch haircut characterizes easy-going Mr. Richard M. Packard, one of our few men instructors. Born in Salem, Massachusetts, he has lived all over the Northeast because his father was a travelling engineer. During the last war, he served with the 45th Infantry Division in North Africa and Italy. Throughout his college days he had various jobs—from digging ditches to being a bellhop. Mr. Packard now resides in Auburndale with his wife and two boys and spends the extra time he has working around the house. Another of his favorite spots is his camp in the Maine woods. Mr. Packard is now studying for his Ph.D. in History at Harvard, and hopes to receive it in the near future. At Lasell he is an instructor of History of Civilization, English History and Modern History. Mr. Packard complains that he has too many interests of which some are the theater, music, and reading. Both he and his wife have participated in many amateur groups on the stage.

Mrs. Johanne Bamford, instructor of English Composition and Journalism, is also the faculty advisor for Lasell's three publications, the Quill, News, and the Lamp. She and her husband are now living in Cambridge, but they spend their summers in Ipswich, Massachusetts, fishing for striped bass and tuna, and swimming. As for music, Mrs. Bamford enjoys classical, and jazz, or dixieland if it's good. For food it is pickles and lobster. The Bamfords are the proud owners of a 35 ft. cruising boat, the "Kickapoo" and enjoy skiing in the winter at Franconia. At present she is taking courses at Harvard, and enjoys Hemingway, Faulkner and the playwright Tennessee Williams.

Mrs. Nancy Butler is co-worker with Mrs. Bamford since she is the art advisor for our literary publications. She is an instructor in Drawing and Design, A.C. L.D., Fashion Illustration, and Poster Techniques. Mrs. Butler and her husband live in South Lincoln, Massachusetts, as of a few months ago. During the past summers she has taught swimming at camps, done drafting, and this past summer she designed the plans for her home. Some of Mrs. Butler's hobbies are making clothes, keeping her house in shape—her motto is "a drapery a day". She likes the opera of Wagner, and has a small record collection with a record player that plays three speeds. The Butlers enjoy many camping trips to Maine. Mrs. Butler will eat anything but oysters and bananas and thinks June Week at Lasell is wonderful although graduation is a nostalgic time.

Pouch and Ouch want to wish everyone an enjoyable summer and who knows—they may even meet you at the beach.

Pull Up a Table

BY ELEANOR PENNEY

Lasell mates, pull up a bridge table—for the last time, I'm afraid. But maybe it's just as well. The table, the cards, and the dealer are getting a little worn. But it's a pleasant fatigue.

There is a slight stir in the radio business in Boston. WCOP, a local network station that carries soap operas and Sherm Feller is going independent on June 15, and devoting itself to music and news. Art Tacker, from WTAO in Carbridge will take up his "Music with Art" on WCOP, and a certain D-J from WFGM in Fitchburg, Mass., will take Art's place on TAO with his show, "Penney Serenade", starting June 1. His name is Ed Penney, and is related to me by marriage—that of my father and mother. I hope everyone who can will give him a listen. He's "the greatest disc-jockey in the world." Just ask him (or me).

Well, Graduation Day is approaching . . . all too quickly. It won't be long (Continued on Page 4, Col. 3) striped dress, sleeveless, yoked and shirred like a nightshirt, is accented by black belt and buttons down the whole front-length. In cool grey a halter dress with yards and yards of flared skirt and a matching coat. For beach—more grey in a loose sleeveless Chinese shirt, and short wrapped pants, both fastened with tiny shoe buttons, accented with white stitching and slit pockets. In striped cotton, bullfighter pants in black and white with jet knee buttons, and a bright red scarf at the waist. With them a short sleeved white cotton shirt that huttons triangularly in front. It fits snugly and has a low square neckline. Horizontally striped pink and white chambray makes a two piece dress. Narrow straps around the neck make the top into a halter. The full skirt has unpressed pleats. Salad colors star in a straight olive green skirt and a paler green sleeveless top accented by a pimento red belt.

The ceremony, known to be the most traditional of all of Lasell's observances, is climaxed by the Torchlight Parade of Seniors in cap and gown flanked by their Freshman sisters in white, carrying their torches. Preceding the parade will be the Warren Jr. High School Band which will play as the procession marches to Gardner, Carpenter, and Clark, the three largest houses on the Campus. Janice Weyls, Alice Pittenger, and Margaret Dodd, House Presidents of these residences, will lead in bidding them farewell. The Parade will proceed to Bragdon Lawn for the "Farewell to Freshmen Houses", led by Joan "Billy" Williams. After this farewell, representatives from all the Senior Houses and the day students will describe, and throw into a small bonfire, the object, or a symbol of the object, which, to them, has represented their "Pet Peeve" throughout the year. Patricia Preble, Vice-President of the Senior Class will introduce this rite.

Concluding the evening will be the singing of the "Cap and Gown Song" by the Seniors, and the singing of the Alma Mater by both classes.

Flame Speakers for the occasion will be: Louise Foster, Marjorie Faser, Patricia Morris, Dorothy Delasco, Carole Armstrong, Phyllis York, Elaine Quavillon, Robin Witt, Carol Bancroft, Jeanne Sanders, Carolyn Weare, and Harriet Schwarz.

are students and one-third members of the faculty.

The first winners were Anna Crane, Gladys Keniston, and Margaret Loomis.

Who will be the three all-round Lasell girls of 1951? As it was stated thirty-one years ago: "The way in which each girl handled her specific responsibilities this year has told the tale."

PRYOR WEDDING

Maryland. Their gowns will be styled the same as the maid of honor's but will be aqua.

The bridesmaids are classmates of the bride-to-be at Lasell Junior College in Auburndale, Massachusetts.

Mr. Hewitt will graduate this June from M.I.T. where he is a member of the Phi Beta Epsilon Fraternity.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Washington, D. C.

MRS. CASS

She has many relatives who have been connected with Lasell for three generations. Her father was one of the first trustees of Lasell. Her two twin sisters, Lillian and Nellie Packard, both graduated in the classes of '83 and '84, respectively and her son, Kingman Packard Cass, married a Lasell girl, Mary Fiske, from the class of '16 and '17.

Mrs. Cass thinks that the girls of Lasell 1889 and the girls of the class of 1951 finale ended a wonderful show that each and every one of us will remember as a part of Lasell.

Commencement Concert Held

The annual Commencement Concert of the year 1951 was held in Winslow Hall at Lasell Junior College on Tuesday evening, May 22, at 8:15.

Taking part in the program were girls of both classes, displaying their talents as vocalists, pianists, and organists. The selections were in a classical vein, among them those of Chopin, Tschaiikowsky, Handel, and Bach.

Students in the concert were: Martha Morse, '52, Joyce Pearce '52, Beverly Pink, '51, Barbara Ayrault, '52, Frederica Holt, '52, Nancy Allen, '52, Shirley Gregory, '51, Sarah Grahame, '52, and Meridale Roberts, '51.

OUTDOOR NIGHT

How Can You Tell A Lasell Girl, The Piano Tournament, The Crew, and Swimming Bath, the Military Drill, the singing of Salve Regina, The Three Indispensable Deans, The Roaring Twenties and the Commencement Waltz.

Word has been received that Luther Thompson, whose father is the head of the Bacteriology Department at the Mayo Clinic and lecturer at the University of Minnesota, and Harry Knowles, will drive the apricot colored 1929 Packard Touring car that will be used in the "Roaring Twenties" scene. The boys will wear raccoon coats and wave Harvard banners.

Act Three includes the Fashion Show. The main feature of the finale will be the scale model of Bragdon, built under the direction of Mr. Earl Ordway. The replica of Bragdon will have candles burning in its one hundred windows, and as the candles dim, the Alma Mater will be sung, ending the show.

Carl De Suze, WBZ announcer, will narrate the show. Mrs. Jean Cavis and Mr. Louis Heffermehl arranged the music for the show, and Mr. George Sawyer Dunham will lead the Orphean Club.

There will not be any scenery for the Pageant. Everything will be landscaped. In case of rain Saturday evening, the show will be held over until Sunday evening. If it rains Sunday, the show will be held in Winslow Hall.

STUNT NIGHT

could go on all night. The students have a chance to do a take-off of the faculty, while the faculty in turn mimics the students.

This year's show was tops. "Pitt's" opening speech couldn't have been better. It left no question in anyone's mind as to whom she was imitating. Gestures and voice were exact and, what's more, she has been practicing all year!

The upper level of the Barn with Miss Rothenberger, Miss Hoffman, and the Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Mercer and Mrs. Bamford was hilarious.

Gardner's skit was good . . . followed by a scene from Casino with Bobbie Ferns as Miss May and Pat Walsh as Miss Atwood, each doing a fine job in their parts.

We loved the "Inside of a Lasell Girl's Mind", and the characterizations of Miss MacArthur and Miss Davis of the psychology department.

The gym instructors, at home in their native locale, were good and don't forget Pat Shelton as an incoming freshman, and quite a creepy character.

. . . Then the faculty came on and the students moved up closer until they were sitting on the edges of their seats.

The fashion show brought lots of laughs plus some oh's and ah's. Didn't Miss David look stunning? Still, aren't we glad we didn't have to wear such outfits.

Mrs. Cousins' dancing class and the are much the same in the fact that they all have high ideals, and think a lot of Lasell.

Connecticut Setting For Marriage of Joan Marion Williams

The First Congregational Church of Wallingford, Connecticut, will be the setting for the marriage of Miss Joan Marion Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Williams of 289 Ivory Road, Wallingford, to Mr. Richard V. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Allen of Cleveland, Ohio. The double-ring ceremony will be performed by the Reverend Delwin Lehmann on Monday afternoon, June 18, at four o'clock.

Escorted by her father, the bride will wear a wedding dress of white chantilly lace and nylon net. Her hat will be of lace with fingertip illusion veil. Her bouquet will be made up of lily of the valley flowers.

Miss Sue Goetz will be maid of honor for her roommate. The matron of honor will be Mrs. W. F. Albertsen, sister of the groom. Both will wear gowns of white marquisette with a light green sash.

The bridesmaids are Miss Jacquelyn Suellau, Senior at Carpenter, Miss Anne Tentlend, Miss Alice Houghton, and Miss Carol Petersen. They will wear white gowns with coral colored sashes.

Mr. John Ohr, of Worcester, Massachusetts, will act as best man. There will also be five ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony, there will be a reception at St. George's Inn at Wallingford. The couple will then leave on a trip through the southern states. They will make their residence at Atlanta, Georgia, until fall when they will return to Wellesley, Massachusetts.

before our Freshmen become Seniors, and our Seniors go their separate ways. Some will be transferring to other colleges, some will be going to work, and some will be "housewives".

President Barbara Adams is planning to do art work in S. Casco, Me., for the summer. Debbie Lyons will be doing secretarial work at Lake Morey Inn in Vermont for the summer. . . . Maureen Barry is going to transfer to Boston University and major in Public Relations. Haine's in Newark will be seeing quite a few retailers—Gayle Mackie, Arlene Lauchaire, Nancy Cusack, Smokey Stover, and "Dean" Alice Pittenger. Altman's in Manhasset is going to see Jackie Suellau, and Altman's in New York City will have Nancy Smith and Jo Vojir. . . . Donna Lincoln is going to spend the summer in Europe! . . . Georgia Bakes, Billy Williams, Jean Schuster, Bev Pink, and Marilyn Clark are planning a cross-country trip to California. . . . Jan Weyls is planning on going into the TWA Airlines. . . . Ann Murray has been accepted as a service representative in the Telephone Co. . . . Sue Goetz is going into advertising, and Patsy Preble intends to go to the Hahnemann School in Philadelphia. . . . Mickey Kohaut is going to enter her year's training as a medical secretary at St. Michael's Hospital in New Jersey. . . . Mary Ellen Wait is going to work at the Newton Theological School for the summer, and I think I'll start to run Filene's in Chestnut Hill come September. . . . Dot Delasco, Cynthia Stanley, and Joan Williams are planning to get married in the near future . . . and then, many are still uncertain.

But, Seniors, no matter what you do, I'd like to take advantage of my media and wish all of you the best of everything. And speaking for myself and the other Seniors, I'm saying not good-bye, but so-long to our Junior Sisters. We'll never forget you, and wish you every success next year, and all the years to come.

RIVER DAY

man crew and the Baney crew.

The second race saw the LeFrank crew take honors, followed by the Stillwell and Paulmier crews respectively.

The third race scorers were the "Freshmen Blacks", captained by Joan Morrison. On her heels was the Coady crew shadowed by the crew captained by M. J. Clark.

While the crewers rested before the grand finale, the faculty scored an upset over the alumnae by a couple of canoe lengths. Dressed in white shirts and dungarees, with feathers in their hair, the faculty must have had some secret message of inspiration from their "Great White Father", Mr. Packard, at their before-race pow-wow.

Following the faculty-alumnae race was a "sight for sore eyes". From out of nowhere appeared two small canoes. As the spectators strained their eyes, Harriet Schwarz, Betty Baumbach, and the "BARBS of Blaisdell" could be distinguished. Dressed in black leotards, with black streaked faces and skeleton heads pinned on them, they finished in a tie, across the finish line—from approximately twenty feet away from the final flags).

As both canoes neared the shore, a sudden misfortune seized the Baumbach-Schwarz crew, and over they went. When a similar fate attacked the Voorman-Adams canoe, the cameras began to flash. It must have been somewhat cold standing around during the rest of the afternoon.

The fourth race showed the third place crews in the previous races. First, was the Snedaker crew, then the Bartlett, and Wingate crews.

Second placers in the previous races, scored as follows: first, the Hickey crew; second, the McCambridgers; and third, those captained by Mickey Kohaut.

The last race, the big one, won by the Rothe crewers, respectively placed the Burns crew and the Wulbreds as second and third.

Many Freshmen received their letters, at the assembly on May 28, which was planned in order to distribute softball awards. Receiving large "L"s were Freshmen Jean McCambridge and Dotty Webb, and Senior Joan LeFrank. Harriet Schwarz and M. E. Wait were awarded four-inch bars as recipients of large "L"s last year.
